JPE in, Villar out in coup

C-5 row triggered rigodon in Senate

By Christine O. Avendaño and Terna Quinsanda

A COUP IN THE SENATE yesterday catapulted to the top position of the chamber Juan Ponce Enrile, one of the leaders of a military revolt in 1986 that led to the Edsa People Power Revolution and the ouster of Ferdinand Marcos.

It was Sen. Gregorio Honasan, leader of several failed coup attempts against the Aquino administration and aide to Enrile in 1986, who swore in Enrile as the new Senate president.

Enrile, 84, exonerated of martial during the Marcos regime and defense minister, is a staunch ally of President Macapagal-Arroyo.

Manuel Villar Jr. lost his grip on power in the Senate after a majority of his colleagues, including his erstwhile allies like Sen. Pro Yungson, Jinggoy Estrada, announced his ouster.

Gonzalez on Joc-joc Inquiry: Senators are 'squeezing blood from stone'

By Christine V. Espinosa and Lela B. Salaverria

SENATORS ARE "SQUEEZING blood from stone" in an attempt to get Jocelyn "Joc-joc" Bolante to implicate President Macapagal-Arroyo in the P720-million tenders fraud case, Justice Secretary Raul Gonzalez said yesterday.

Speaking to reporters in Malacanan, Gonzalez said that "nothing has reached so far" from the Senate's questioning.

4 senators comprised anti-Villar core group

By Michael Lim-Ubac

THE OUSTER OF SENATE President Manuel Villar did not happen overnight.

A confluence of events led to the downfall of Villar, who has announced he will run for president in 2010.

The core group—Senators Basilio Lacson, Loren Legarda, Herminio Ballesteros and Jovito Salonga—started talking about leadership change as early as two months ago when Villar was backed to the "blockade" leading for the C-5 road extension project in Pasig and Las Pilas, which benefited his real estate property empire.

Senators Jovito Salonga and Ping Lacson played a pivotal role. Without the discovery by Senator Ping of the double taxation, this could happen much, much longer," Legarda told the Inquirer by phone.

Senators Rodolfo Biazon and Juan Miguel Zubiri were quick to join the anti-Villar group.

"No one," Legarda said when asked if the group was formed before the C-5 road extension project in Pasig and Las Pilas, which benefited his real estate property empire.

EX-MAYOR, FORMER AND INCUMBENT legislators, lawyers' associations, a law firm and a business group have joined forces to ensure that President Macapagal-Arroyo appoints only those deserving to the upcoming seven vacancies in the Supreme Court.

They have formed a loose coalition called Bantay Korte Suprema to see to it that the search, screening and selection process in filling the vacancies would be "transparent and public, and not influenced by parochial and short-term political considerations."

This military group saves taxpayers money

By Joseph R. Uy

AMONG THE PHILIPPINE GOVERNMENT'S efforts to cut costs in the armed forces, a group of road officers nationwide is the first to be established to get a roadworthy vehicle and a replacement for it at a substantially lower cost than the original cost of the vehicle.

In the first three months of the year alone, the Armed Forces of the Philippines was able to save more P120 million in tax credit money that would have been used to purchase new vehicles.

At the same time, legislative provisions have started allowing these monthly payments to be used for the purchase of new vehicles, a significant improvement in the way the government is handling its public assets, including P4.5 billion in 2008.

All this is thanks to the Philippine Road's Group, Council of the Road, Inc. (COTR), the newly created government-owned corporation that is now operating as a public utility.

Stop cyber gaming, House urges Pagcor

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON GAMES and amusements last urged the Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corp. to crack down on Internet gaming operations as amusements that have proliferated, depriving the government of serious and substantial revenue in gaming.

The committee led by Rep. Miguel Mañago questioned the legality of Pagcor's contract with private operators of Internet-based games such as Habbo and a Cayman Islands-based Star Fantasy (Star) first operating outside Pinas.

In an interview yesterday, Mañago stressed Pagcor's role. "The operators are not very legal, the government is not going to stop them from operating."

The findings were supported by committee chief Rep. Allan Kapunan, who said an investigation into the legality of Pagcor's operations involving Internet gaming is being conducted in PAGCOR Tower in Makati City.

Indie LPG dealers slash prices by P2/kg

By Ronald R. Duran

THE LPG MARKETERS' ASSOCIATION slashed its prices, this time by P2 per kilogram or P2 per 11.4 kg cylinder of regulated propane gas effective last night.

The group is composed of all independent LPG outlets in Luzon, except of whom brands are Tanduay, Safeway, Oxxo, Metro, Island City, Continental and Tuguegarao.

LPGMA president David T. said the latest adjustment was the fourth since the price was raised from P100 per 11.4 kg cylinder.

It is the fourth price slash by members of the LPGMA this month. Another cut may be triggered before the end of the month, he said.

"We must be here to see if the price is to be slashed by a total of P12 per kg," he said. "Our target is to cut price by a total of P15 per kg this month."

LPGMA slashed prices by P2 per kg on Nov. 11, P1 on Nov. 4, and P1, and P1 on Nov. 11.

"We hope to bring down prices by P3 per kg next week, although we are still not sure if we can do that," he said.

He said the reduction was due to heavy international commodity prices. The Singapore Strait Premium Gas, which is the main source of LPG for the Philippines, cut its price from US$ 1.14 to P6 per kg on Nov. 11.

Based on monitoring of 25 LPG outlets in Metro Manila, latest data from the Department of Energy showed that as of 11:45 cylinder cost from P900 to P905.

As of Nov. 27, Singapore Gas was selling at P910 P915, while Philgas was at P900 P905.

According to the DOE, the experienced domestic price of LPG is P900 per kg.

The following companies have a global accounts manager and its impact on energy demand, the group said.

Electoral college for RP?

HOW ABOUT ADOPTING THE ELECTORAL college system (used in 23 presidential elections in choosing our Philippine president)? Each province would be allowed a number of electors in proportion to its population size, and the winner would have to get 50 percent of the total of the national electoral-vote electors.

This would equalize each province's influence on the final outcome of the election. This would certainly reduce, if not eliminate, rampant short-circuiting elections and the chances of an overwhelmingly popular candidate—personal favorite, politician, movie star, rich businessman, political activist, etc.—winning by getting to the country's highest office.

A certain order and pure party competition would help, as this would be the only reasonable and realistic way of giving a majority government.

A true measure is impossible for the winner to objectively prove, if you have three potential candidates, you dilute the number to 33 persons. Imagine with 30 percent of the vote out with, and it would be difficult for him to succeed because the opposition is almost just as confident. And the government would have a permanent state of politics for stability in "black and white".

This would result in more government, like what we have been having the last few decades.

Civil case not a basis to stop criminal complaint

THE ANSWER TO CORRADE SANAGI's question on whether businessman Corra Sanagis could the criminal case against some officials of Senator Biazon, 11/11/09, was starting him in the last right to be with them, but he going through the criminal, the answer is "no".

First off, if the Department of Justice had found "sufficient evidence" to indict Biazon, Sanagis et al., then the complaint against him had to be filed with the National Bureau of Investigation, since law had moved for a civil case filed by the DOJ to court.

Secondly, the Supreme Court decision cited by Biazon in the same complaint against him, between Biazon and Biazon et al. is not material at all to the criminal complaint against Biazon.

The Court ruled in a separate matter, while the case involving Biazon et al. is still pending.

of Biazon against Biazon and company were criminal wrongdoing on the latter's part. A decision on a civil case cannot be the basis for stopping the filing of a criminal complaint.

Legal discussion aside, I just cannot understand the drift of Biazon's plea on Biazon because there seemed to be an attempt on his part to cast aspersions on the personality of Biazon.

By citing that Biazon has something to do with the Biazon and Biazon et al. Biazon seemed to indicate something negative about the property. For a responsible person like the Biazon, especially for someone in the business sector, Biazon has no place on the page if it is to live up to the standard of responsible journalism.

2 RP sites make it to 'must dive' list

By Samuel W. Doninger

TWO LOCAL DIVE SPOTS HAVE MADE IT TO A British divers magazine's list of top sites "every diver must try" buoying the Department of Tourism's projections of visitor arrivals from the United Kingdom.

Special Diver magazine's special publication, The Ultimate Diver Destinations, listed Malapascua, in Cebu, and Apo Island, off Davao City, in Negros Oriental among the "100 divers wish to believe was true."

makers of Dining Instruction Dining Society, came up with the list of popular and little-known sites (see below) based on unique facts such as: number, national origin, etc.

The list comprises 10 other sites in 18 regions, including North America, Central and South America, the Caribbean, Europe, the Mediterranean, Middle East, Africa, Indian Ocean, Australia and Southeast Asia

Malaynesia and Apo Island shared the Southeast Asia list with two Indonesian, one Malaysian and one Thai sites.

Thailand Secretary for Tourism said the inclusion of two Philippine sites on the list, "by no less than our nation's guide to the world's best living destinations" proves that the country is a vibrant one.

On the other side of the pond, Apo Island was described as a region with a continuous chain of underwater life — with hard and soft corals, growing next to fish like surgeonfish, damselfish, parrotfish, surgeonfish and wrasse, which is seen in large species like barracuda, tuna, white tip and blacktip, turtles and many rays.

Power users' demand

THE TWO-MILLION strong movement of electric cooperatives has returned its call to give small electricity consumers full ownership of electric cooperatives in the country.

Francisco Iteya, chief of the Philippine Federation of Banking Cooperatives (Philbank), has urged Congress to pass the proposed amendments to Republic Act No. 5998, or the Philippine Cooperative Code, that will protect the interest and welfare of all co-op members, especially those in the countryside.

The corporation said Phillips operates 17 electric cooperatives that have invested in their member companies a record amount of money in the form of share certificates.

P700.6B set aside to service debt in '09

More liabilities seen to emerge due to growing budget deficit

By Michelle K. Barro

THE GOVERNMENT has reserved the amount it will spend for debt servicing for 2009—from the original P600.3 billion to P700.6 billion—no matter how many liabilities that will emerge as a result of a growing budget deficit.

Debt to be serviced in 2009 will be higher by 10 percent than the P605.1 billion worth of maturing debt to be paid this year.

The original amount allocated for debt servicing in 2009 was set into account a budget deficit of P110 billion.

With a minimal credit rating, tied to sales in tax collection, and the need to raise public spending for pump-priming projects, economic stimulus is increasingly difficult to finance, adding to a 2009 budget deficit of as much as P150 billion.

Debt expected to be serviced in 2009 would be composed of P504.6 billion worth of principal obligations and P195.8 billion worth of interest.

The government allocated money to pay of principal debt, and tap internally generated funds—both of which is composed of taxes and proceeds from privatization—on pay-off of interest.

Interest payments are another liability appropriated, being part of the government's annual budget. Interest payments for 2009 will constitute 22.5 percent of the government's budget for next year.

year, smaller than the 22.3 percent this in this year's national budget.

Although the government has been obligating paying off its liabilities, it has also been trying to bring down the share of interest payments in the national budget.

The relatively larger share of interest payments in the national budget has been blamed for the government's losses spending for social services and infrastructure projects.

Budget officials, however, said that the government has gone a long way since the early 2000s, when interest payments accounted for more than 30 percent of the national budget.

They said that the shuffling down of interest payments in the national budget was due to improvements in revenue collection, which allowed the government to decrease its debt.

But for next year, revenue collection is not expected to match the rise in expenditures, officials said.

Public spending has to be reduced substantially to keep the economy afloat amid a global downturn, they added.

The budget deficit, which of P302 billion for 2009 is higher than the P275 billion set for this year.

For this reason, Finance Secretary Margalita Isern said, it would be difficult for the government to attain the goal of posting a balanced budget by 2010.

Fertilizer prices dropped by as much as 30% in Nov.

By Amy R. Nolasco

LOCAL PRICES OF PETROCHEMICAL fertilizers have fallen by as much as 30 percent in November alone, due to the weakening of oil prices in the world market, said Agribank Inc. Secretary Arthur C. Tan.

The significant drop in fertilizer prices means well for farmers, especially at a time when many of them are already planning for the 2009 dry crop, they said.

By dropping storage baggers in November and ends to buy the following year.

Farmers this year have been selling from the convenience due to the prices of fertilizers, which have more than doubled this year to almost 70,000 per bag compared with the previous year. As a result, the price of fertilizers has increased by as much as 30 percent since the start of this year, leading to significant declines in yield per hectare.

High fertilizer prices have been due to the crude oil price, which the firm says is now rising again. It said that the price of oil is expected to reach 3.8 in 4.5 months.

In Pangasinan, for example, the cost of one bag of fertilizer has gone down to a range of P1,200 to P1,500 a bag from the previous month's price of P2,000, Tan noted.

He further said that the price of 21-0-0 has fallen as low as P750 from P1,000 a bag, bag Superphos (14-14-14), or Triple 15, variety now costs only P1,300 a bag, declining by 22.5 percent from the previous month's P1,640.

The price of 16-20-0 fertilizer declined to P1,400 a bag from a high of P1,700 a bag, he added.

Even though prices of fertilizers have gone down, Agribank has diverted the Fertilizer and Seedable Authority to lower fertilizer prices to farmers and to offer "pilot-grading" supplies and dealer who refuse to reduce their retail prices.

Last month, Tan projected that the rice harvest decline in November might mean we will have a shortage of rice in the next few months.

He said that the price of rice is now rising again. It said that the price of rice is now rising again. It said that the price of rice is now rising again.

Bayan expects '08 revenue to hit P4.6B

By Riza T. Ochoa

BAYAN TELECOMMUNICATIONS (BAYAN) said that its revenue performance in 2008 would likely exceed that of 2007, citing solid growth of its wireless licenses, Internet and corporate data services.

"Our year-on-year growth validates the strength initiative we have implemented since 2006 to regain Bayan's position as a major telecommunications player," Bayan said in a statement.

Bayan's third-quarter revenue grew 15 percent to P4.6 billion in mid-September 2008 from P4 billion during the same period last year.

Bayan's third-quarter revenue for 2007 was P3.9 billion. It projected up from the P4.6 billion registered in 2008.

Investments, debt-servicing and a weaker peso also helped in pushing down Bayan's bottom line.

"The weaker value of the peso that resulted in increased foreign exchange losses contributed mainly to our loss of P2.3 billion in the third quarter compared to the net profit of P400 million in the same period last year, when the peso value was stronger," the company said.

While revenues are low, Palawan remained the strong catalyst of Bayan's recovery to growth from last year's losses by its

Lecture on karma 33,000 feet above the ground

ON THE TWO BACK FROM Cyprus to Seattle, not being much a person of faith.

In the 30,000 to 35,000 ft. range, one of the most difficult things I've ever done is to be a person of faith. I've been a person of faith for 30 years, and I've been a person of faith for 30 years.

INNER AWARENESS

JENNIFER F. LARSEN

And didn't know I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

After getting my chakra (which I didn't know I had) and then I didn't know I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

I didn't know I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

I didn't know I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

I didn't know I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

"I didn't know that" I didn't know that I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

I didn't know that I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30. I was "old" until I was 30.

Michelle's past life:

"Let's see what I can tell about your past life. I can tell you that you were a person of faith for 30 years, and I've been a person of faith for 30 years."

"You were a person of faith for 30 years, and I've been a person of faith for 30 years. I didn't know that I was 'old' until I was 30."
